Disclosure & Disclaimer Statements – The attached chart (“Chart”) provides guidance to assist attendees involved with partnering services at BIO events. As such, BIO collected publicly available information from a sample of companies in the biotech-related industry. Most of the sample companies have frequently attended BIO events and often engage actively with the partnering system. The chart should help attendees identify disease indications of interest to the sample biopharmaceutical companies (“Guidance”):

The information provided herein has been collected and assembled from publicly available sources for the purpose of guiding and assisting participants in events using the BIO One-on-One Partnering™ system (“Users”), with the intent of helping to maximize the value of their networking and partnering opportunities at BIO events.

The Biotechnology Innovation Organization (“BIO”) and any related BIO - person or - entity (“Released Parties”) are not responsible for late, lost, stolen, misdirected, damaged, incomplete, or illegible data entries; or data entries that are lost due to computer, internet, or electronic malfunction. BIO disclaims any responsibility for the accuracy or veracity of the information provided in the Guidance. BIO also disclaims any responsibility for a User’s reliance on the information for any meeting at a BIO event, including but not limited to, meeting with a person who has violated, or would induce violation of, U.S. laws related to participation at a BIO event or with the BIO One-on-One Partnering™ system. BIO reserves the right to cancel or modify the Guidance for any reason, at any time, including if fraud or technical failure compromises the integrity of the Guidance, as determined by BIO in its sole discretion. Each User agrees to release, discharge, indemnify and hold harmless the Released Parties from any and all claims, actions, and/or liability for any injuries, loss or damage of any kind arising from or in connection with use of this Guidance. This Guidance is not intended to be a source of investment advice or recommendation, and the Released Parties shall not have any liability for any damages of any kind whatsoever relating to this Guidance.

If for any reason the Guidance is not available as planned due to infection by computer virus, bugs, tampering, unauthorized intervention, fraud, technical failures, or any other causes beyond the control of BIO, which corrupt or affect the administration, security, fairness, integrity or proper availability of this Guidance, then BIO reserves the right at its sole discretion, to cancel, terminate, modify or suspend the Guidance. The Released Parties are not responsible for any problems or technical malfunction of any computer system, server, or service providers, computer equipment, software, failure of any information or posting received or retrieved by BIO on account of technical problems, human error or any combination thereof, including any injury or damage to User’s or any other person’s computer equipment relating to or resulting from use or retrieval of the Guidance. CAUTION: ANY ATTEMPT TO DELIBERATELY DAMAGE OR UNDERMINE THE LEGITIMATE OPERATION OF THIS GUIDANCE IS A VIOLATION OF CRIMINAL AND CIVIL LAWS AND SHOULD SUCH AN ATTEMPT BE MADE, BIO RESERVES THE RIGHT TO SEEK DAMAGES OR OTHER REMEDIES FROM ANY SUCH PERSON(S) OR USER(S) RESPONSIBLE FOR THE ATTEMPT TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW.

The Biotechnology Innovation Organization, BIO, the BIO International Convention and the BIO One-on-One Partnering™ system are intellectual property owned by the Biotechnology Innovation Organization, and all BIO® -related names, marks, and logos are protected marks and/or intellectual property of the Biotechnology Innovation Organization.
