

COST SAVINGS FOR LIFE SCIENCES

LEARN MORE

Access to world-class business partners at preferred prices.

Did you know that BIO is home to the largest cost savings program for the life sciences industry? As part of a community of over 4,700 companies, life science businesses of all sizes receive competitive discounts and favorable service agreements.

Why participate?

It's a unique opportunity to save on the services your life science company already uses. If you purchase things like lab supplies, cleanroom solutions, FDA consulting services, and HR administration tools, participation should be a no brainer.

As a BIO or participating state affiliate member, you could be saving significantly and reinvesting in your business and research.

What your peers have to say...

“When we were a small company, it was important to stretch our dollars. Now, as a large company, BIO’s cost saving program is an even more important solution for us. We save over $1 million each year.”
