Understand Your Service Contract Terms & Dates

Life science companies depend on their uniform and facility providers to supply, clean, and disinfect cleanroom materials like lab coats, uniforms, and floor mats.

But, do you know your contact renewal date and terms? BIO and UniFirst provide solutions to some of the most common issues.

Do these problems sound familiar?

- Unannounced price increases or unexplained charges
- Costly lost or ruin bills without even an explanation or discussion
- Inventory shortages or delayed order fulfillment
- Hidden long term contractual commitments
- A need to carry additional inventory due to service provider proximity

Check Your Contracts

Often times, you cannot get out of your uniform agreement anytime you want. It will cost you in financial penalties and time spent disputing with the supplier over legal terms and transitioning.

For these reasons, BIO partners with UniFirst as its preferred uniforms supplier for life science companies. In addition to cost savings, companies receive clear contractual terms and no price increases for 3 years.
